

Don't

Don't spend too much time in mourning.

Tears are for the sad.

I left to be with Jesus, and this should make you glad.

Don't waste your hours in grieving.

No need to feel distress.

*I'm tired of life's frustrations,
and had to get some rest.*

*Don't vex yourself with questions,
or try to reason why.*

*Life here for me was ended
it came my time to die.*

Don't lose the love I gave you feed it with your care.

Give it your devotion and spread it everywhere.

Don't fret because my leaving came in such a way,

*We'll have another meeting,
in God's Eternal Day!*

Expressions of Gratitude

On behalf of myself, Caroline and my brother JAMES we would like to extend our sincere thanks to everyone for their outpouring of love, prayers, and condolences during this extremely difficult time.

Obituary

JAMES G. PAIGE was born in Harlem, New York to Ruth V. Paige on May 24, 1953. He was the sixth child of seven. James was affectionately known as “Googie” to his family. He attended elementary school in Harlem.

The family moved to the Bronx in 1960 where James continued his education, he then attended Bronx Community College where he proudly earned his Bachelor’s Degree in Psychology. Upon graduating from college James worked as a supervisor of an all boys group home. The United States Postal Service called James to duty in 1983, where he worked until he retired with thirty four years of service.

James was an EXTRAORDINARY father, loving grand and great-grandfather, brother and loyal friend. He touched many lives and will surely be missed by all.

In his passing, James had four brothers who preceded him in death, Michael, Anthony, Kevin and Ronald. He leaves to cherish his memories his daughter Caroline, his son James, his sister Carolyn, his brother Gardiner, his sister in Christ Robin Nicholas, three granddaughters; Qishauna, Raniece and Reina, two great-grandchildren, Heavenly and Legacy and a host of aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews, cousins and many many friends.

Lovingly Submitted,
The Family
