Obituary

JIHAD NOLAN HUNTER was born on September 10th, 1957 to Mona Ann Nias and the late Arnold Douglass Hunter Jr. in New York, NY.

Jihad was the third of six brothers. He grew up in Crown Heights, Brooklyn and the Burnside area of The Bronx. Jihad attended public school and graduated from the Manhattan Vocational Technical High School with a diploma in Air Conditioning and Refrigeration. Jihad worked with his father "Poppy" along with his brothers, Arnold and Kevin, cousins Roy and Ronnie in the refrigeration / air conditioning business as an apprentice. Jihad later opened up his own air conditioning and refrigeration business in East New York, Brooklyn.

Growing up, Jihad had a lot of friends and loved hanging out with them and his brothers. He was very serious and dedicated to the Religion of Islam. He loved his family immensely, as well as his indoor garden, his pets and his rooftop pigeon coops. He was always ready willing and able to fix things whether it be household appliances or doctoring on a wound. He was always telling jokes and always was there to make light of a serious situation. He was the "Protector" of us, all the way down to making sure all the locks was on the door like Fort Knox. So we gave him the name "General Fire Marshall Bob".

Jihad leaves his legacy behind to his beloved Wife Mrs. Deirdre Martin-Hunter, to their only son Jihaad N. Hunter. As well as to his First born Venessa N. Hunter and his Middle daughter Donelle L. Hunter from Shelaine Simpson. Five brothers Arnold (deceased), Jeffrey, Kevin, Milton, and Brett. One sister Glen; His Mother Mona Nias; Uncle Joseph; Aunts Teasha and Pam; Grand Uncle George and Grand Aunts Myrtle (deceased) and Barbara; His Grand Kids Maurice, Dakota & Aurora. Nieces: LeaMaris, Kia, Kimba, Emily Chevelle, Chanel, Charity, Reign, Leah, Peyton, Paisley, Malani and Kendall. Newpews: Jamel, Evan, Keith, Lydell, Courtney, Brandon, Darryus, Majesty and McKenzie.
