

When I'm Gone

*When I come to the end of my journey
And I travel my last weary mile
Just forget if you can, that I ever frowned
And remember only the smile*

*Forget unkind words I have spoken
Remember some good I have done
Forget that I ever had heartache
And remember I've had loads of fun*

*Forget that I've stumbled and blundered
And sometimes fell by the way
Remember I have fought some hard battles
And won, ere the close of the day*

*Then forget to grieve for my going
I would not have you sad for a day
But in summer just gather some flowers
And remember the place where I lay*

*And come in the shade of evening
When the sun paints the sky in the west
Stand for a few moments beside me
And remember only my best.*

Obituary

EUSTACE VERNON FENTON, the first of eight children of long departed Christopher and Edith Fenton of Salem, Montserrat was born on April 2nd, 1936 and passed into glory on 29th March, 2025.

He attended the Salem Primary School before going on to the Montserrat Grammar School as it was called at that time, which is now called the Montserrat Secondary School. After graduating from school he worked as a cashier at the Peters and Peters' Drug store before obtaining a government job at the Montserrat treasury department. He worked there for many years until 1963, when he and his brother Howell migrated to the United States of America. He acquired a job at Macy's Herald Square, the largest department store in the world at that time. He worked there until his retirement in 1999.

He had one child, his daughter Roslyn whom he loved very dearly and was very devoted to her.

He was an ardent lover of cricket, in fact, he had such a passion for it that it appears as if his life was built up around cricket. As a youth he played in his village team and went to their matches in other villages. There was a joke when the team went to play against a team in St John's that he was an opening batsman stayed in to the end and made 1 run. No matter where cricket test matches were played in the world he seemed to have found out about it and either watched and/or listened to the matches.

As a friend he was very devoted to them and kept in touch at all times. He had a host of friends that they would always be chatting and discussing for hours about cricket. As a big brother he was the perfect example for his siblings. He loved us all passionately and was always interested in what they were doing and how they were getting on. He would always encourage and help with any project or business that anyone decided to venture. He kept in touch with everyone at all times and especially with modern technology we were able to see and talk to each other and that made us feel so close. As a father he was the absolute best any daughter could ask for.

We will surely miss him, also especially that he was the family's historian. Anything we wanted to know about the family we could always ask him to provide the information.

He leaves to mourn his beloved and devoted daughter Roslyn; brothers Howell and Ronald; sisters Sylvia, Beatrice, Enid and Florence, many nieces and nephews, great nieces and nephews and great great niece and nephew. Many cousins and other relatives and a host of friends.

We will all miss him. Rest in eternal peace Eustace and rise in glory.

Lovingly submitted,
The Family
